Positioning aids

Positioning aids in various forms and sizes for optimum positioning as a means of decubitus prophylaxis and treatment support.

With the various positioning aids the patient is moved marginally and the pressure distribution of the main support points enables the patient to lie in a relaxed and pressure-relieving manner.

The aim is to keep the duration and intensity of the effect of pressure as small as possible.

Our positioning system is based on a pressure-relieving and positionable filling of small spheres!
